How Can the People trust the Democratic Party ?

There was a time in the history of this country, when the Democratic party could put forth some claim to being the friend of the people, and when it succeeded in gaining the confidence of, and retaining, in its organization, the masses of the people. In those days—the days of its power and glory—it assumed to be the great champion of human rights, of constitutional liberty; the friend of the poor and oppressed, and the enemy of soulless corporations and class legislation. How well it succeeded in humbugging the people, and retaining power in the National Government, is patent to all. Upon this point we need not dwell for the present.

The student of history knows that its professions were always hollow and false. Claiming to be the friend of American industry, it invariably legislated in favor of free trade. Advocating as its cardinal principle, the doctrines of the Declaration of Independence, it was the advocate and defender of American slavery. Professing to be opposed to monopolies and a paper currency, it legislated to build up said monpolies and chartered banks in almost every county town.—Claiming to be the great and only Union party of the country, it was the only party that ever threatened disunion, and that absolutely retained power in the Government for years by assuring the people in every Presidential campaign that if it was defeated at the polls it would dissolve the Union. It proclaimed one set of principles for the South and another for the North, until its wickedness and hypocrisy became so apparent to the people that they arose in the majesty of their power and hurled it from the place it had so long disgraced. Scarcely had the verdict of the people been announced, when this party, claiming to be Democratic, sought to break up the Government, and to dissolve the Union.

"Occasional," of the Phil'a. Press, in speaking of this party, says: "In the past ten years the Democratic leaders had a hundred opportunities to do right, and by so doing to endear the masses to their cause; but in no one instance have they seized the fitting moment to do the proper thing. Let us enumerate a few of the golden occasions which they neglected:

1. They forced James Buchanan to break his solemn pledge, that the intervention on the subject of slavery.

2. They sustained the Lecomptin bill with all its atrocities, and ostracized every man in the party who would not endorse it.

3. They seconded the proscription of STEPHEN A. DOUGLAS, because he insisted upon the doctrine of popular sovereignty, and refused to support the Lecompton wrong.

4. Theysupported JOHNC. BRECKINRIDGE for President in 1860, with the full knowledge that he was not the choice of the party, as the result proved, and had been nominated by a minority.

5. They supported the fatal heresy in JAMES BUCHANAN'S last Message, denying the right of the Government to save itself from destruction.

6. They opposed all the great war measures of Mr. LINCOLN'S Administration.

7. They prolonged the war by holding out hopes to the Southern people which they knew could not be fulfilled.

8. They encouraged ANDREW JOHNSON in measures which prolonged the miseries of the South through four long years.

9. They revived all the passions of the war by nominating a ticket at New York, on the 4th of July, 1868, and placing it on a revolutionary platform.

Without enumerating other instances, these will suffice to show how stubbornly the Democratic leaders have disregarded their obligations to truth and liberty, and how blindly they have rushed their followers into destruction."

"Occasional" thinks it possible, even yet, for these leaders to do right. We cannot agree with him on this point. Think for a moment of the men who lead the Democratic party, and then ask yourself the question: Can these men do right? To do right is to be a true man—a true patriot. Can VALLANDIGHAM be a patriot? Can HEISTER CLYMER and WM. A. WALLACE, and all that school of Democratic politicians, do right? Can the Ethiopean change his skin, or the leopard his spots? The thing is impossible. The leaders of the Democratic party are tyrants, aristocratic at heart. They cannot act with the Republican party. Its atmosphere is too pure. Its doctrine of "equal and exact justice to all men" is too Democratic. Their idea of Democracy is,a large plantation, plenty of slaves, and a white man's Government. Where the few can lord it over the many,and where all must keep step to the music of the overseer's lash.

Why will the masses of the people continue to trust the Democratic party? Why will honest, thinking men, continue to act and vote with it? Look at its record. Read its history for the last twenty years. Think how it has been rebuked by the majority of the liberty-loving people of the United States for the last twelve years. See how it is left, without a National organization, without honor, and without hope of obtaining control in the Nation, so long as the Republican party is true to itself and to its principles. Every man who loves his country, who loves liberty, who prefers the society and companionship of loyal men, to rebel sympathizers and traitors should, without delay, resolve to join the ranks of the Republican party, and act with it and vote with it, enjoying all its honors, all its victories, all its glorious achievements, just the same as if he had been one of its earliest adherents.

Conquer your prejudices; think as honest men should think, and the work is done.

Worthy of Noting.

The principal stock-in-trade of the Democrats, says the Pittsburg Commercial, consists in tirades against the Republican party. Formerly the "nigger" composed the sum and substance of their arguments. The absence of the "nigger" has rendered the Democracy more acrimonious in their attacks upon the Republican party. Their practice, however, does not keep pace with their professions. The other day, when Mr. KERR'S resolution for the payment of ten percent. extra to the clerks, messengers, watchmen and laborers employed in the various Departments at Washington, came up, a Republican member made a motion to lay the resolution on the table. Here was an opportunity for those Democrats who are incessantly crying out against extravagance to put in practice their loud professions. The motion was carried by five votes. Seventy-four Republicans and five Democrats voted yea. Forty-one Republicans and thirty-three Democrats voted nay.

There is nothing either new or remarkable in this action of the clamorers for public economy. It is entirely in keeping with their past course, and therefore to be expected. Still it is of sufficient importance to make a note of for future reference.

Our young friend, Joe. W. FUREY, has retired from the chair Editorial of the Clinton Democrat. Personally, we esteem JOE. as one of our best friends, and have always felt sorry that he could not see the corruption, wickedness and anti-Democratic proclivities of the co-called Democratic party, and leave the organization forever. But there are none so blind as those who will not see, and while JOE. refuses to work and act with the great party of liberty, progress and equal rights, we nevertheless wish him success pecuniarily and physically wherever he may turn up.

PRESIDENT JOHNSON, says the Commercial, seems to have vetoed the Copperhead power, for in his message there is not an argument, or a reason, that affords the slightest ground for objecting to the bill. We fear the veto will prevail, there not being sufficient ground for expecting a two-third vote in either House for the measure. We trust that we are sufficiently thankful that the man who spends so much of his time in granting pardons to revenue thieves, counterfeiters and other offenders, and aiming blows at the best interests of the country, has less than ten days of official life.

THE amount of pig iron produced in the country during 1868 was 1,603,000 tons of 2,000 pounds. Of this Pennsylvania produced 1,022 555 tons; New York, 188,081 tons; Ohio, 318,000 tons, and the remaining 71,364 tons by Michigan, Maryland, the New England and other States. The estimated value of the pig iron was $63,000,000.

IT is said that "Thine for the right" is about to retire from the chair Editorial of the Watchman, and with carpet bag in hand, return to some "Confederate X Roads" in Kentucky where, it is hoped, he will find a purer and a sounder species of "Democracy," where he can give full vent to his "pent up" feelings, and ease his rebel mind.

THE Herald, an excellent paper published in Carlisle, Pa., contained, last week, a strong and well written Editorial, entitled the "Spring Election." Hit them again. These Court House cliques are a curse to any party or county. We have one of them here; but its days are numbered. The hand writing is already on the wall.

DOES the Watchman really believe that Protestantism has proved a failure? A large number of its readers, we understand, are anxious to know. Explain at once. Why keep them in suspense? Were our Protestant fathers all deceived? Were they all fanatics? Tell us about it Mr. MEEK.

Will the Watchman please explain why it is that every christian man, who wishes to carry out the golden rule, "Do unto others as ye would that others should do to you," is compelled to leave the Democratic party, as at present organized? It has been so for the last fifteen years. Why?

P. G. MEEK, with all his rebel proclivities, it is stated, could not endure the rebel ravings of "Thine for the right," and has made up his mind to send him back to Kentucky, or down to New York to aid Brick Pomeroy in the publication of "Pomeroy Unmasked."

CLYDE, Ohio, has what is called a "Knitting Machine." A crowd of ladies walk into a drinking saloon, take possession of all the seats, and quietly settle down to knitting. This stops the customary business of the place.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 19, '69.

Messrs. Brown & Hutchison:—I have been thinking for a long time of communicating to the people of "Old Centre," through your valuable paper, some of the doings of Congress, Washington, &c., &c.; but to the present time, have been so busy that it was out of my power to do so. Thus much as an apology. I hate apologies, you know. I have received every number of the REPUBLICAN. I like it very much. It is a No. 1 paper. So full of life, of truth, of useful information, of wit and humor, that I would not be without it—could not do without it—if it cost ten times its present price. I would suggest that you make it a daily, or at least a semi-weekly paper. It would pay the people of Centre county, and I am right sure it would pay you.

Washington is a lively city just now. The hotels are all full to overflowing, and thousands of place-hunters are coming hither every day, running to and fro, from hotel to hotel, endeavoring to secure comfortable quarters from which to make a raid upon Gen. Grant and his Cabinet officers, so soon as they assume the reins of power, Thousands of them will be disappointed. It must be so in the nature of things, for there are from five to ten applicants here already for every office in the gift of the Government. My opinion is, that any person who is making a good living at home, and saving a little for a rainy day, had better be contented, and stick to it, and not spend time and money coming to Washington to seek a place which, if secured, would not benefit them one particle financially, for it generally takes the whole of the salary to pay expenses here. I know a great many clerks whose salaries range from $1200 to $1600 per annum, who are dead broke by the middle of each month,—left without a red cent until next pay-day comes around. This you may think is improvidence on their part. So it is, to some extent; but boarding here is very high, and everything else in proportion.

Speaking of clerks reminds me that I met our mutual friend, Dan'l Welch, a few days since. Mr. Welch is an exception to the general rule. He has made and saved money, but it must be remembered that Dan is a first-class man, and a necessity—a permanent fixture here. He is known by every Senator and Congressman, and by them highly respected and esteemed. Such men are an honor to Centre county—an honor to society, and to the Republican party.

Gen. Cameron, the truest friend your State has ever had in the U. S. Senate—able and competent—is at his post. He is an indefatigable worker, an unflinching friend of "protection to American labor," and of "equal and exact justice to all men." Pennsylvania need have no fears in regard to her great industrial interests, so long as Hon. S. Cameron lives, or maintains the position of U. S. Senator. I think I can safely say that no member of the Senate wields a greater influence than does Gen. Cameron, and I know that he and Gen. Grant are now, and have been for many years, like the Siamese twins, inseperably joined together.

A great many Congressmen, and others here, are at a loss to know what Gen. Grant means by remaining so reticent in regard to his choice of cabinet officers. None, however, blame him, and I think he shows great wisdom in pursuing this course. He will select none but the very best of men—men who have been true to the country in the hour of its peril—Republicans with sound heads and pure hearts. I say nobody blames Grant, because all have confidence in his fidelity to principle, and his knowledge of human nature—of men and things. The fact is, outsiders know nothing about who Grant will select; nor do I know; but the following, it is said, by would-be wise-ones here, comes from a source worthy of credit: Charles Francis Adams, Secretary of State; Senator Morton, Secretary of the Treasury; Gen. Schofield, Secretary of War; Admiral Porter, Secretary of the Navy; B. F. Wade, Secretary of the Interior; Mr. Evarts, Attorney General; Mr. Wilson, of Iowa, Post Master General. It is my opinion that Grant's appointments will not vary much from this.

What do you think of it? I presume you Bellefonters would like to see ex-Governor Curtin in the Cabinet, but I fear your hopes will not be realized. But will not Ohio rejoice at the honor conferred upon her truest son, Hon. B. F. Wade, the pioneer of Republicanism in the West; and, might I not add, in the South, the East and the North?

Congress has been doing an immensity of work this session. Hundreds of bills of importance have already passed, and as many more are pending. The Suffrage Amendment, will, I think, pass this week, with but little alteration from the Resolutions as they passed the House. Oh! Brown, how I wish you had been here to have heard the discussion—the speeches—in the Senate on this question. They were magnificently grand. But of this, more anon.

AMONG the bills which have become laws by the ten days' limit, President having neither signed nor disapproved them within that time, after reception from Congress, is one removing from office in Virginia, Mississipi and Texas those persons who cannot take the oath prescribed by the fourteenth article of amendment,

President-elect Grant has sold his Washington residence to Lieutenant-General Sherman.

BY JUSTITIA.

WASHINGTON, D.C., Feb. 20, '69.

Messrs. Brown & Hutchison:—Having a little leisure time this evening, I concluded to write you some items in addition to what I sent you yesterday, which may prove of interest to your readers. I referred in my last to the debates on the proposed amendments to the Constitution in the U. S. Senate. These debates will rank among the most memorable that ever occurred in that body. The importance of the questions involved, the ability of the speakers engaged, the earnestness, ingenuity and eloquence displayed by both parties, rendered it one of surpassing interest. All the resources of parliamentary tactics were resorted to by the Democrats to flank the friends of the Amendment, but they proved as futile as their efforts last Fall to elect Seymour and Blair.

The Republicans had made up their minds to stand by their principles, to uphold the great doctrine of the Declaration of Independence, to uphold "equal rights to all before the law irrespective of race or color," and to fight it out on that line if it took the whole session. Whatever may be the opinion of people as to the proposed amendments, all must admire the earnestness and fearlessness with which the leaders of the great Republican party have faced the music on the grand question of human rights. Do justice to all is their watchword, and I am convinced that God will not prosper any party, Republican or Democratic, that will attempt to withhold justice from any of His creatures. This is the great fact that the Democrats refuse to recognize. This is the rock upon which they split. "Whom the gods would destroy they first make mad." Three hundred thousand of our bravest soldiers laid down their lives that the nation might live—that all her children might be free before the law, and rise to the dignity and nobility of their God-given manhood. Yet the Democracy cannot, will not see. "Woe unto thee, Chorazin! woe unto thee, Bethsaida! for if the mighty works, which were done in you, had been done in Tyre and Sidon, they would have repented long ago in sackcloth and ashes." "But I say unto you, it shall be more tolerable for Tyre and Siden, at the day of judgment, than for you."

It was beautifully said of the world's Redeemer, that a "bruised reed he would not break." How can any man be a deciple of His who would harbor malice or hate in his bosom against, or trample under his heel, the bruised reed, of slavery's minions, personified in four millions of emancipated slaves? Freemen, already raised to the privileges and blessings of American citizenship, by the God-fearing and Bible-loving Republican party. So long as the Republican party continues to do right, just so long will it prosper and retain the confidence of the American people. And just so long as the Democratic party bows the knee to Baal, and refuses to recognize the God of the Bible, who declares that "he has created of one blood all the nations of the earth," just so long will they remain a hopeless and but little honored minority

Senator Morton, in his great speech on the Constitutional Amendment, showed that he looked upon this great question in the light of christianity.—In answer to Doolittle he said: "By the blessing of God, we had abolished slavery in spite of the Democratic party; we had sustained the war in spite of the Democratic party; we saved the Union in spite of the Democratic party; and we would now consummate this great measure of equality in spite of that party."

President Johnson, it seems, is determined to let all the scoundrels loose upon society before he leaves the office he has so long disgraced. Having done all he could for the rebels he is now, as his time draws to a close, trying his hand on the thieves and counterfeiters, and the murderers of Abraham Lincoln. He has handed over the bodies of Booth and Mrs. Surratt, &c., to their friends. The skeleton of Booth was put in a metalic coffin. Hundreds of people flocked to see the remains.—There was nothing but bones left. An old army shoe was upon one foot; upon the other, a boot cut open at the top. This covered the left foot, the leg having been broken in his leap upon the stage of the theatre after he had assassinated President Lincoln.

Before I close, permit me to predict that the next move on the part of the Democratic press, and leaders, will be to solicit from their blind followers of worse than blind guides, money to erect monuments to the memory of these members of their party who murdered the patriot Lincoln.

I am, dear REPUBLICAN, as ever, yours, &c.

—France Consumes 910,000 tons of Beef annually; England 1,660,00 tons, and the United States 2,000,000 tons. Texas furnishes 12,000,000 head of cattle annually. The total value of all the cattle in the United States is estimated at $1,000,000,000, and the total annual consumption to 50,000,000 head.

THE United States Industrial League was fully organized in Philadelphia on Wednesday and Thursday last. The object of the League is said to be to embrace all the different interests of the country into one united effort to secure adequate protection to all our industrial pursuits.

Contradictory accounts of affairs in Paraguay have been received. The Brazillians claim that the war is ended Lopez, it is reported has gone to Bolivia.

ANOTHER TERRIBLE TRAGEDY.—MEMPHIS, Feb. 20.—A horrible tragedy occurred on Friday night, three miles north-east of Raleigh Springs. A party of white men went to the house of Colonel Thomas Dilkins, while he and two men named Wilson and Humphreys, were eating supper, and knocked at the door, which was opened by Humphreys. Without saying a word, the party shot Humphreys through the body, and with pistols and knives in their hands, rushed into the room and put out the lights.

They then commenced firing at Dilkins and Wilson. The former received one ball in the body, and with Humphreys, managed to crawl out of the room. Colonel Dilkins made his way to a neighbor's house and gave the alarm, and on returning with a party of the neighbors, a colored woman, Colonel Dilkins' servant, was found dead near the front door. Wilson's body was found in the room with eight bullet holes in it and badly cut to pieces.

Humphreys was also found badly wounded. The assassins plundered the house, taking everything of value and rifled the pockets of Wilson, and the negro woman, took two valuable horses and escaped.

I want to rouse each sleepy head
Who stand upon the brink,
Where yawning gulfs disclose the dead.
Who might, but will not think.

I want to warn the living ones
Who blindly grope along.
Ye fathers, daughters, mothers, sons,
What perils round you throng!

Look our, my reader, are you free,
Or do you wear the mark?
Most all are blind and cannot see,
Yes, groping in the dark.

Catarrh, a demon in the head,
Consumption is its son,
Kills hosts, yea, countless millions dead.
Perhaps you may be one.

That hacking, hawking, spitting, shows,
Catarrh effects your head,
Matter and slime in throat or nose,
Runs down your throat instead.

Your lungs and liver soon will show,
Consumption has its birth;
Catarrh, its sire, will feed it too,
'Till you return to earth.

If colds affect your head and throat,
ANNIHILATOR buy;
Now don't forget what I have wrote,
Or think this subject dry.

WOLCOTT'S ANNIHILATOR cures,
Catarrh—the demon flies;
It save the lungs, good health insures,
And Catarrh quickly dies.

I want to gratify my friends,
Who wish to understand
About PAIN PAINT, its use, its ends,
And Why its great demand.

I want to show you plain as day,
Why PAIN PAINT stops all pain,
That you may never have to say
"I'll not try paint again."

PAIN PAINT will cool but never stain;
Pumps inflamation out;
'Tis harmless on the breast or brain,
A trial stops all doubt.

When inflamation leaves the frame,
All pain will cease at once;
Remove the cause, 'tis all the same;
None doubts unless a dunce.

The pores will ope and drink PAIN PAINT;
Absorbents fill with ease;
Restores the weak, the sick, the faint,
The greatest skeptic please.

Evaporation cools the place
As inflamation flies;
Hot blood at the aberrent's base
Makes PAINT in vapor rise.

'Tis thus PAIN PAINT removes all doubt,
Removes the very cause
By pumping inflamation out;
On this we rest our cause.

BELLEFONTE, PA.

Wednesday Morning, February 24, '69.

THE Drug Store of F. P. Green will be removed, April 1st, 1869, from Brockerhoff's row, to the new Hotel of Bush & McLain, over the creek. Jan. 20tf.

FOR SALE.—A first class farm, within two miles of Bellefonte, is now for sale. Any person wishing to buy, can learn full particulars, by calling at the office of the Bellefonte Republican.

UNDERTAKER.—In the Republican will be found the advertisement of our fellow townsman, H. P. Harris, Cabinet Maker and Undertaker. Henry is a clever fellow; a good mechanic, and is always ready with a good hearse to convey every one who has shuffled off this mortal coil, to their last resting place.

TAILORING.—Wm. S. Tripple, Merchant Tailor, continues to carry on his business (up stairs) in Bush's Arcade Building, on High street. Mr. Tripple is a first class workman, keeps constantly on hand the very best of cloths, &c., makes neat fits, and gives satisfaction generally. Give him a call.

A GOOD JOB.—The visitors to the Arcade Saloon, Geo. M. Peck, Proprietor, will see that it has been newly papered with very handsome paper. This was the work of Samuel Nichaus's a first class painter and paper hanger. We would recommend Mr. Nichauls to all persons wishing papering done in a neat and workmanlike manner.

OUR HOUSE.—We have one Hotel on Bishop street, kept by our good natured friend Wm Brown. Mr. Brown keeps a very good house, and persons who do not wish to pay for their meals, the prices charged at other hotels in the Borough, can be accommodated with good and substantial meals, at from 25 to 40 cents per meal. Mr. Brown's table is not surpassed by any in the town, and he spares neither labor nor pains to make his guests comfortable. Call and see him.

A GOOD MOVE.—Rev. Thos McGovern, pastor of the Catholic church in this place, recently organized a Temperance Society for the especial benefit of his own people. The society, we are informed, now numbers over one hundred members. Rev. McGovern is a faithful minister—a gentleman in the truest sense of the word—and an able advocate of the temperance cause. The result of his labors in this direction are seen and felt every day, and many a wife and mother will never cease to call down the blessings of heaven upon his devoted head.

ENTERPRISE.—We are pleased to announce the fact that Edward Brown has commenced to build on the corner of Allegheny street, opposite "Our House." Since the last Winter this corner has been a waste and an eye sore to citizens and passers by; but this is to be remedied. During the pleasant weather of last week, Mr. Brown had the masons at work upon the foundation walls, and has now, we understand, determined to erect a three-story frame building, the full size of his lot. It will be a nice improvement, but it is a great pity that he did not determine to build a brick block. The new building will contain three large store rooms. This will make more room for merchants. We want to see them all occupied by live men.

WHY!—Mr. Brockerhoff had several of the large limbs cut off the shade trees in front of Keller & Musser's store, just opposite the Republican office on Bishop St. Why was this done? Was it to clear the way so that Messrs Keller & Musser could see into the Republican office, or was it to make room for the large crowd of customers who daily flock to the Philadelphia Store? It don't matter. It was a good job. We hope Mr. Parsons will trim the trees in front of our office to make room for the large number of subscribers that daily find their way into our sanctum. Whether the trees are trimmed or not, if the Republicans want the Democracy well trimmed just let them subscribe for the Republican, and fork over the scrip. Come along, friends. Step in—we will be happy to see you. Times will be better, and money plentier after the 4th of March, when Johnson goes out and Grant comes in.—Till then, possess your souls in patience.

THE QUESTION ANSWERED.—Somebody—a woman, of course—inquires why, when Eve was manufactured from the spare-rib, a servant wasn't made at the same time to wait on her? Somebody else—a woman, we imagine—replies in the following strain: Because Adam never came whining to Eve with a ragged stocking to be darned, collar string to be sewed on, or a glove to mend, "right away, quick now!" Because he never read the newspaper until the sun got down behind the palm trees, and then stretching himself, yawned out, "Ain't supper most ready, my dear?" Not he. He made the fire and hung the kettle over it himself we'll venture; and pulled the radishes, peeled the potatoes, and did everything else he ought to do. He milked the cows, fed the chickens and looked after the pigs himself. He never brought home half a dozen friends to dinner when Eve hadn't any fresh pomegranates, and the mango season was over. He never stayed out till 11 o'cl'k to a ward meeting, hurrahing for an out-and-out candidate, and then scolded because poor Eve was sitting up crying inside the gates. He never played billiards, rolled ten-pins and drove fast horses; nor choked Eve with cigar smoke. He never loafed around corner groceries while Eve was rocking little Cain's cradle at home. In short, he didn't think she was specially created for the purpose of waiting on him, and wasn't under the impression that it disgraced a man to lighten a wife's cares a little. That's the reason that Eve did not need a hired girl, and with it was the reason that he fair descendants did.

HOW CHANGED.—This is an exclamation we hear every day in regard to Bishop Street And, may we not exclaim, how changed is Bishop Street? No more drunkenness; no more drunken quarrels; arrests by the Police few and far between. For some time, modest as we are, we were inclined to the belief that it was the establising of the Republican upon this street that had brought about the great change. We have learned better, however, and are willing that the honor should go where it properly belongs. Rev. Thomas McGovern, with his temperance pledge, has done the work. Honor to whom honor, &c.

DR. SAGE'S CATARRH REMEDY is no Patent Medicine humbug gotten up to dupe the ignorant and credulous, nor is it represented as being "composed of rare and precious substances brought from the four corners of the earth, carried seven times across the Great Desert of Saharah on the back of fourteen camels." It is a simple, mild, soothing, pleasant Remedy, a perfect Specific for Chronic Nasal Catarrh. "Cold in the Head" and kindred diseases. The proprietor, R. V. Pierce, M. D., of Buffalo, N. Y., offers a reward of $500 for a case of Catarrh that he cannot cure. For sale by most Druggists everywhere. Sent by mail, post paid, for sixty cents. Address the proprietor as above. †

[Communicated.]

THE Protracted Meeting, noticed in one of your recent issues, is still in progress. Over one hundred have been converted, and the work is unabated. Some twenty were at the alter for prayer on the last evening. A visit was paid us by your worthy pastor, Rev. Paidoe, who preached a very touching sermon. Our Reverend pastor, E. Butler, has labored untiringly ever since the first of January, and yet his energy and endurance are those of the young itinerant. In fact he has two meetings in progress at present; one at Unionville, at which some eight were at the alter for prayer. The old veteran preaching alternately, one evening at Milesburg, and the next at Unionville. His endurance, for a man of his years, is almost superhuman. A more faithful and worthy pastor, it has not been our lot to have for a score of years. The seals to his ministry, during our meeting, have been numerous, many of them heads of families. It is not uncommon to see the father, mother and children prostrated at the same alter for prayer. May the blessing of God crown the labors of the old veteran, until it is said of him: "It is enough, come up higher!" TRYO.

AT HOME IN THE EVENINGS.—Nothing concerning the future welfare and happiness of the young is so neglected by parents and guardians as the manner in which their evenings are spent. Darkness is temptation to evil; and suffering young men and boys to be absent from the family hearth, when the light of day does not restrain them from misconduct, is really training them to it, and producing incalculable mischief and ruin. All the riots, disturbances of any kind and crimes are the results of running in the streets after nightfall. To home, something more is necessary than the mere command, and parents should endeavor, by their own example, to show the importance of spending the hours of darkness with the family, for if heads of households cannot experience the truth of the assertion that "there is no place like home," how can they expect their off-spring to be domestic? Evening recreation and employment in the family circle are infinitely more agreeable and pleasant than any amusement or dissipation abroad; and honorable and learned men are the products of the one, while miserable and dissipated specimens of the human race are the results of the other. Let home be the place it should be, and let the same fascinations and inducements be offered at the homestead as abroad, and a more exalted and creditable class of citizens would people the world.

THE PRESS.—We have the honor to state that we now number among our exchanges Forney's Philadelphia Press.—It comes regularly, and is most heartily welcomed by us. It comes well printed, and filled with the choicest of matter.—Its editorial columns contain daily leading articles on one or more of the important questions of the day, well written, strong, emphatic, logical and dignified. It deals terrible blows to the sham Democracy; but does it in so genteel a truthful, and at the same time, so forcible a manner as to carry conviction to the minds of the most incorrigable. Its points are well put; its arguments unanswerable. The department devoted to "What the people say," is a new feature, peculiarly its own, and is as interesting as it is new.

Every number contains the latest news from foreign countries, and the very latest Congressional, and other news from all parts of our own great and glorious country—made great and glorious by the Union loving patriots of the Republican party, and by the power and influence of fearless and independent journals, among which Forney's Philadelphia Press ranks second to none.

All through the fearful struggle for the National life, the clarion voice of the Editor was heard, and his pen, mightier than the sword, was wielded in behalf of the Government, in behalf of the soldiers of the Nation, and now in favor of extending the God-given rights of a saved Nation to all of its citizens, the noble and the ignoble, to the oppressed and down trodden, as well as to the most wealthy within our borders.

Forney's Press should be in every Republican and loyal family in the State; and an organized effort should be made to place it in the reach of every honest Democrat who could be induced to read it. Knowledge is power. Intelligence and Republicanism go hand-in-hand.—As these advance, our liberties are rendered more secure, and the despotism and class legislation of the past vanish like morning mist before the rising sun

It affords us great pleasure to recommend the Philadelphia Press to the Readers of the REPUBLICAN.

Our Western Letter---No. 3.

THE COMING WOMAN.

Dear Republican:—Sorosis! Do you know what sorosis means? Now you need not hunt up your old, lidless Webster, for Noah did not know anything about it. Leastwise he don't tell us anything about it. I don't mean Noah of ark fame; but Noah of the great spelling book—Noah of the dictionary. I don't believe, either, that any such society existed in Admiral Noah's time. I never read of Mrs. Noah having been connected with any such society; nor do I think she was much exercised about woman's rights, or female suffrage! Though the ancient historian does not inform us which wore the breeches—or if breeches were worn by either—it is generally conceded that Mr. Noah, not Mrs. Noah, was "Captain" of that somewhat celebrated craft. Mrs. Noah probably devoted her time to the little Noahs!

Sorosis! I am sure I don't know what it means! I do know that such is the name given to an organization of women, the object of which society is the emancipation and citizenising of women.

I don't know whether you have the sorosis in Bellefonte or not; though I expect you have, for you used to have Mrs. Grundy pretty badly there, and sorosis is one of the offspring of that prolific(?) old lady.

We've got it in Chicago, though, sure; and we've got it bad! It is spreading like fire on the prairie, and all efforts to stop it are unavailing. It is a very loathsome disease, like the smallpox, and latter day Democracy.

The first symptoms of this terrible malady is a serious breaking out at the mouth, called, for short, gab! As the disease progresses, the victim becomes more Gabby! In the last and worst stages, the gab increases, and I have heard the opinion expressed that it generally ends in gab. But no telling, for gab is mighty, (especially female gab,) and it may prevail.

During the last week we have had two Woman Suffrage Conventions. I won't call them Hen Conventions, as did one of our city papers, nor will I say that the members of these conventions were like pullets, because they run largely to feathers; but I will suggest that some of the eggs laid may prove eggs of dissention which, when hatched, will bring forth curses which, like chickens, come home to roost—curses to the true interests of women—curses even to the cause of woman's suffrage; for I think that some of the pantaloon women who were active in these meetings would prove a curse to any cause. Many of the strong minded women of the country were here, most prominent among whom were Anna Dickinson, Esq., Mrs. Susan B. Anthony, Mrs Elizabeth Cady Stanton—old Mrs. Train—Geo. Francis. I mean—was not present. The old lady was unavoidably absent. Among those present, were many maiden females, on whose classic brows the crystaline frosts of forty-seven or more summers, and the gentle showers of many winters had left their impress—the only impress that had ever been left! Maidens upon whose lips no tyrant man had ever hung, but from whose nose gracefully dangles alaska diamonds on a frosty morning! Maidens whose appearance suggested that country where the Lion roareth, and the whang doodle mourneth for her first-born; but upon whose breast no first-born ever rested.

There was an immense amount of cackling attendant upon the small amount of laying done. Not a few male chickens joined in this cackling—some shanghais, some bantums, and not a few of the common dung-hill order. I saw no gamecocks among them. They were generally short-spurs!

In the convention the women resolved to do all sorts of things, and they will do it, too, for

"When a woman will, she will, you may depend on't,
And when she won't, she won't, and there's the end on't."

Therefore, we may as well accept the situation, and make up our minds never again to trample on lovely woman; never again to place our number 10's upon an alabaster neck! I, therefore, now embrace the coming woman, and solemnly promise never again to bind her with shackles, or check the ambitious female spirit as it soars downward to the polls.

Let 'er soar.

In fact I am willing she should trample me under her pretty gaiters, if they ain't larger than 3's, and the ankle tapers nicely. I am willing she should speak at political meetings; willing that she should march defiantly to the polls, flourishing her ballot and shouting the "Battle-cry of Freedom;" willing that she should put her feet on the mantle and smoke her meerschaum; willing she shall stand in the horse-cars, and in the Legislative Halls; willing she should enter the prize ring—this coming woman whom I now embrace!

I don't believe I can ever love the coming woman whom I now embrace. I doubt whether I can respect her much. I accept her as I do internal revenue tax and castor oil. Woman, as woman, is a very sweet creature; but woman, as man, is something very graceless. The one is the violet—the other the sunflower. I accept the coming woman, whom I now embrace, but I can't say I hanker after her.

While I now embrace the woman of the Period, memories will come welling up of a woman not of the period—a woman who is queen at her own fireside, and who rules her own household with the scepter of love; a woman whose influence radiates far and wide from her home circle; a woman who clings to you thro' evil and good report, and to whom invisible forces are ever drawing you, in all times and in all wanderings; a woman whose price is above rubies, who looketh well to the ways of her house, and whose children, and whose husband rise up and call her blessed; a woman upon whose breast you first opened your eyes to the light of day, and a woman upon whose breast you would fain lie when you close your eyes forever to the light; a woman too noble even to be dragged down to the level of man; a woman—best of all woman—your mother and my mother!

For the present, however, we must banish these memories, and shout "Hail to the Chief who in triumph advances"—by which chief I mean the coming woman whom I now embrace. "See the conquering he-ro comes," and she will hang her panniers on the outer wall. She has got her back up—grecian bended—and she will make things hump. Her hair switches wildly about her head as she charges forward upon her velocipedal war horse!

Hip, hip, hurrah, for the coming woman!

Your Own,
EM QUAD.

HORRIBLE DEATH FROM HYDROPHOBIA.—The Newark Courier says: Already tidings reach us from all parts of the country that hydrophobia prevails to an unusual extent, and we hope our authorities will take immediate steps to guard our citizens against the possibility of being attacked by rabid canines. On New Year's day Thomas McCarthy, a sober, industrious mechanic, of Peterson, was slightly scratched upon one of his fingers by the tooth of a little dog. No one suspected the dog, which afterwards died, of being mad at the time, and no bad effects were experienced from the scratch until about three o'clock on Sunday morning, when the deceased began to grow ill, and when water was brought to him he at once flew into a violent fit. He appeared to suffer the most intense agony and had the greatest aversion to water, always becoming unmanageable when any was brought to moisten his lips. After undergoing an almost continuous series of fearful spasms and violent contortions, the unfortunate man died at three o'clock in the afternoon, just twelve hours after the appearance of the first symptoms. A man named Charles Ludlam, who was bitten by a dog about a month since, died of this dreadful disease in Brooklyn yesterday. On Friday last, a young child of a Mr. Kromenacker, residing at Foster's Meadow, L. I., was seized with hydrophobia, and died in great agony on Saturday night. The child was bitten by a dog nearly three months before and it is feared that the father and another child, who were bitten at the same time, will share the same horrible fate. We learn, further, that the country districts about Newark are infested with rabid canines, and unless prompt measures are taken to shut up the many worthless curs which run at large in our city, the next human victim of this dreadful malady may prove to be one of our own citizens.

BELLEFONTE, FEB. 22d, 1869.

Minutes of a Temperance Meeting held in the Good Templer's Hall:

On motion of Hon. H. N. M'Allister, Rev. H. C. Pardoe was elected President.

The meeting was opened with prayer, by Rev. Roberts.

The President made some remarks, stating the object of the meeting, after which an ode was sung.

James H. Rankin then read from the State Guard, a call for a State Temperance Convention to be held on the 23d inst., and advocated the propriety of this meeting sending delegates to that Convention.

Hon. H. N. M'Allister offered the following resolution:

Resolved, That it is expedient for this meeting to send three delegates to the Convention at Harrisburg, and they are hereby instructed to use their influence in the Convention to inaugurate a movement to have an amendment to the State Constitution offered to the people for their approval, prohibiting the sale of intoxicating liquors as a beverage.

Maj James Armor, Rev. H. C. Pardoe, and James H. Rankin, were appointed said delegates.

Rev. Megan made some remarks advocating the formation of a public Temperance organization. A committee of seven persons, viz: Revs. Megan, Hackenberg and Roberts, Hon. H. N. M'Allister, Wm. McClellan, J. H. Rankin, and D. H. Hastings, were appointed to form said organization and report at a meeting to be held in the Good Templar's Hall, on Monday evening, March 1st.

A collection was then taken up to defray the expenses of the delegates to the Convention at Harrisburg.

Meeting adjourned.

THE NEW YORK TRIBUNE FOR 1869.

Within the last eight years our country has triumphantly passed through the gravest and most trying perils which have confronted her ever since her Independence was acknowledged. She has vindicated beyond appeal her right to be regarded as no mere confederacy or league of jealous, envious, discordant States, but as substantially and permanently a Nation, wherein the pretensions of no part can be admitted or upheld in opposition to the integrity, the paramount authority, of One Republic.

The right of each man, by virtue of his birth or naturalization as a citizen of the United States, to the full enjoyment of "life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness," until he shall forfeit the right by crime, is also established on impregnable foundations. Our fathers proclaimed it in justifying their separation from Great Britain; it was left to us to establish as a fact what they merely affirmed as a principle. What the cannon of Saratoga and Yorktown proclaimed as an abstraction, the cannon of Gettysburg, Vicksburg, and Five Forks, established as a living, embodied, enacted truth. Widely as our flag now floats, still more widely as it may float hereafter, there is, there can henceforth be, no legal master, no fettered slave. Wrongs and abuses, servility and oppression, may still exist; but the Federal Constitution is no longer their shield, and the folds of our flag no longer emblazon nor seek to conceal a lie. The humblest American, so long as he violates no law, is master of his own limbs and the sole owner of all he can earn.

Of these immense results, the importance and the beneficence will become more palpable with every added year. Distance is required to enable us to measure and appreciate the magnitude of the pyramid of Four Millions of shackles, stricken from the scarred limbs of our countrymen, which form the enduring monument of our struggle and our triumph. New arts, new industries, new developments of natural wealth, too long unheeded and unvalued, will year by year stand forth in attestation that none of us has as yet adequately realized the magnitude and the benignancy of our National victory.

No great good is ever achieved without effort or without cost. Four years of patriotic struggle and sacrifice, Half a Million of men slain in battle or dying of the privations and exposures of War, Millions of bereaved ones, Five Billions of property destroyed, and nearly Three Billions of Debt incurred, attest the magnitude of the contest and the unyielding valor of the combatants.

At length, the smoke rises from the hard-won field, showing that the last entrenchment has been carried. The election of Grant and Colfax gives assurance that the storm is over—that the Bow of Promise arches the sky. There are still obstacles to surmount, perils to avert, noble ends to be achieved; but the ship of State has ridden out the tempest and has her haven full in view. The seven States reconstructed under the recent acts of Congress, and will be followed by the three that have hitherto stood aloof; the right of the Freedmen will be upheld and respected, and Impartial Suffrage throughout the land will soon plant them on foundations that cannot be shaken.

The Tribune will contend in the future, as in the past, for Universal Amnesty as well as for Impartial Suffrage. It has no faith in vengeance, in proscription, in confiscation, nor in the shedding of blood otherwise than in actual and necessary war. "There is a time for War and a time for Peace;" and the latter follows swiftly on the heels of the former. Whenever those who fought against the Union shall have in good faith given up the contest, they are no longer our foes but our countrymen.

In the joyful trust that Grant's election has given the death-blow to Ku-Klux Klans, and all manner of outrages on Unionists and Freedmen as such, and that Impartial Suffrage will no longer be seriously resisted, we hope to see the next four years signalised by an unprecedented expansion of the National Industry and a consequent increase of the National wealth. We hope to see new cabins dot the prairie, new clearings checquer the forest, new mills, factories, furnaces, erected, North, South, East and West, until our annual product shall be Hundreds of Millions greater than at present, while Mines of Iron and of Coal, of Gold, Silver, Copper, &c., shall be opened and worked, with an energy and to an extent that defies precedent. Believing that the systematic, efficient Protection of Home Industry is the cornerstone of a wise, benignant National Policy, and that it is essential to the rapid development of our latent resources, the prosperity of our country, the maintenance of her Credit, and the honest payment of her Debt, we shall give it our most earnest and active support.

THE DAILY TRIBUNE

has been so long known as the leading political newspaper of the country, that its special features need no elaborate description. It contains the fullest and most accurate reports of the proceedings in Congress and the State Legislatures, careful summaries of news from all quarters of the globe, correspondence from all the principal centers of intelligence at home and abroad, letters from travellers in foreign lands, reviews of new books, dramatical, musical and fine art, criticisms, literary, scientific, and religious miscellanies, and all the multitude of items which make up a first-class daily paper. It is printed with better and clearer type than any other daily journal in America. It is published every morning, Sunday excepted. Terms, $10 a year; $5 for six months.

THE SEMI-WEEKLY TRIBUNE

is published every Tuesday and Friday, and contains all the editorial articles, not merely local in character; literary reviews and art criticisms; letters from a large corps of foreign and domestic correspondents; special and Associated Press telegraphic dispatches; a careful and complete summary of foreign and domestic news; exclusive reports of the proceedings of the Farmers Club of the American Institute; talks about fruit and other horticultural and agricultural information; stock, financial, cattle, dry goods, and general market reports, which are published in The Daily Tribune. The Semi-Weekly Tribune also gives, in the course of a year, three or four of the best and latest popular novels, by living authors. The cost of these alone, if bought in book form, would be from six to eight dollars. If purchased in the English magazines, from which they are carefully selected, the cost would be three or four times that sum. Nowhere else can so much current intelligence and permanent literary matter be had at so cheap a rate as in The Semi-Weekly Tribune. Those who believe in the principles and approve of the character of The Tribune can increase its power and influence by joining with their neighbors in forming clubs to subscribe for The Semi-Weekly edition. It will in that way be supplied to them at the lowest price for which such a paper can be printed.

TERMS OF THE SEMI-WEEKLY TRIBUNE.

Mail subscribers, 1 copy, 1 year—104 numbers	$4 00
Mail subscribers, 2 copies, 1 year—104 numbers	7 00

THE WEEKLY TRIBUNE

has continued to circulate a greater number of copies than any other newspaper in the country. We appreciate this confidence, and shall labor to retain it. Its previous attractions will be continued and increased. The main features of our Weekly will be agriculture, literature, politics, and the markets, with the latest summary of the daily news. We have made special arrangements to increase its usefulness as an agricultural journal. The Farmers' Club will be fully reported, and special articles on agricultural topics contributed by the best writers. No farmer who desires to till the soil with profit, and to know the progress constantly made in the science of his calling, can afford to neglect the advantages of a newspaper like The Weekly Tribune, especially when it unites with agriculture other features of interest and profit. The Weekly Tribune contains a summary of all that appears in The Daily and Semi-Weekly editions, while in addition it is made to address itself to the wants of the great farming class. Reviews of all the new publications, and of all that is new in music and the fine arts; letters from all parts of the world—some of them of rare interest to the farmer, as showing the progress of agriculture in other countries; editorial essays on all topics of home and foreign interest, together will be furnished from week to week, and at a lower price than that of any newspaper in America. By pursuing this policy The Weekly Tribune has already attained its present commanding influence and circulation, and we enter up

The Sickle and the Sheaf.

BY REV. S. F. SMITH, D. D.

Lord, 'tis mine to wield the sickle,
Thine to give the golden sheaf;
As through Thee buds of spring-time
Quicken into life and leaf:
Mine to meet the toil of seed-time,
Thine to give the sun and rain;
Mine the sweat, the care, the patience,
Thine the heaps of precious grain.

Though the wan and weary reapers
Amid their labors fall,
And the few and scattered workmen
In vain for helpers call;
Though the noontide heat burns fiercely,
Or the threatening tempest lowers—
The gathering and the gleaning
Are by mightier strength than ours.

We can bear with calm endurance
While the sun curls up the leaf;
We can trust Jehovah-jireh
To fill the swelling sheaf;
'Tis ours the sturdy muscle,
The powerful arm, to bring;
'Tis thine with heavenly blessing
To make the valley sing.

We shall reach the outmost furrows
In their drooping tassels drest;
We shall leave the field of labor,
We shall find a place of rest:
We shall meet again the reapers
Who once shared our grief and joy;
In the harvest song of heaven
We shall find one blest employ.

The eagle from her eyrie
Flies forth at dawn of day,
Poised on her fearless pinions,
With God to guide her way,—
Soars upward, as the morning
Glows in God's glory bright,
On,—till her form receeding,
Looses itself in light.

So when the work is ended,
The garnered crops secure,
And God shall bid his reapers
Toil in the heat no more—
We from all care and sorrow
Shall find divine relief,
And lay before our Master
The sickle and the sheaf.

[Cornhill Monthly Magazine.

WHERE SHALL I GO?—We have a number of letters asking advice as to whether the writers had better move to this place or that. A little reflection will show that it is quite impracticable to give advice in such cases.—Some men will flourish where others would starve, and it is difficult to put such under circumstances where they will not make a living. Others would be "ne'er do weels" if they had a farm given to them in the most fertile region, ready stocked with all that is needed for its best cultivation. Unless one has made up his mind to be a "mover" as they say out West, i. e., put all his worldly goods and family into a wagon, and travel until he finds a place to suit him, he had better make a visit to the place first. It will be money and time well invested.—Many inquiries are made about Vineland, N. J., and similar land speculations. We can only say about these, that we know some who have settled in such places and are quite content with their lot, and others who have left in disgust. Success anywhere depends quite as much upon the man as upon the place.—American Agriculturist.

MILK FEVER.—Cows that are well fed and get fat sometimes die of milk fever. Alas! that it should be so, for it is used as an argument against providing the most useful of all our domestic animals with the necessary care and food during the most interesting and important period of her history. The truth of the matter seems to be this: cows that are poorly fed get accustomed to this condition. They eat little, and give little milk. Cows accustomed to an abundance of food adapt themselves to this condition,—They will eat a good deal, and give a good deal of rich milk; or, if bred for the purpose, will gain rapidly in flesh. Such a cow will suffer more from poor feeding than the other, while the latter may be injured from high feeding. It is a matter of fact that dairies of such cows, when fed on rich food, have many cases of milk fever, while dairies of grade Short-horns, in similar circumstances, are generally exempt. We should adapt the feeding to the breeding, and the breeding to the feeding. We lose half the advantage of high feeding unless we have the right kind of animals, and we lose all the advantages of good animals unless we give them good food and good treatment.

SUBSOILING.—"N. D.," Lynn, Ct. "I see a great deal in the papers about subsoiling. Is it beneficial for all lands? I have tried it on one piece, and could not see any difference."—The object of subsoiling is to loosen the soil beyond the reach of the plow, and thus subject it to the action of the air, allow the roots to go down, and the moisture to come up. If the subsoil is a loose gravel, allowing a free circulation of air, there is no use for the subsoil plow. If it contains substances injurious to plants, the first crop would probably be injured by the loosening. If it is so wet that the roots of plants cannot go down into it, it would not be worth while to subsoil it. Well-drained lands are most benefited by the operation, and it is rare to find soils of this character that will not pay well for subsoiling. It is easy to subsoil in a few furrows, and by comparing the crop with that of land not thus treated, you can determine if the operation will pay.

It is sad to relate, that when mechanics have land they generally give better cultivation than farmers; they have more grapes, pears, strawberries and water melons, and early potatoes and cucumbers.

Winter Work.

We fancy that our readers are well-nigh tired by this time of the rules that we have felt it our duty to din into their patient ears, about painting tools, oiling gudgeons, tacking fast loose shingles and clapboards, and mending up wife's wash bench, and all that; and about the turning, hauling out, and spreading of manure heaps, gathering leaves, cutting fodder, sorting apples, and the whole of the long list of things which is necessary for farmers to do, and which it has been, and always will be, (more is the pity), our duty to remind them of.

Just now we are going to say never a word about all that, but only to suggest that there is other work, which the farmer can only attend to when somewhat at leisure, and which is more important to his "getting on" than any of the out of door or indoor patching and mending.

Now that winter has fairly closed in, and winter arrangements are comfortably settled, every farmer,—at least every farmer who cares enough about good farming to read the Agriculturist,—should set vigorously about the cultivation, planting and enriching of that other farm from which his greatest satisfaction,—aye, and his most paying crops, too, must come.

Dickens says: "The part of the holding of a farmer or landowner which pays best for cultivation is the small estate within the ring fence of skull." It is mainly this small estate to which our winter work should be devoted. Of course, ether duties must not be neglected, and among other duties we include the very important ones of visiting and of entertaining friends, and of making life generally pleasant and cheerful for ourself and for the family.

But, after all this is done, there are hours passed in twirling the thumbs over the fire, in unprofitable twaddle at the store or post-office, and in idleness about the house, which ought to be devoted to better things.

We are often told that farming is the noblest, as it is the freest, of all occupations. That depends. There is nothing especially noble in the life of a farmer who drives his business at the pace at which he drives his oxen, and who gives about as much thought to the one as to the other; who wastes one-half of his labor in raising crops under unfavorable circumstances, which he does not know or care how to improve; who wastes one-half of his crops in ill-managed feeding; and whose years, from one end to the other, are spent in a struggle to make both ends meet, and to scrape together a few dollars, to lend out on bond and mortgage.

On the other hand, no life is more noble than that of an intelligent farmer who commences as a young man with straitened means and a poor farm with a mortgage on it, and who, by activity of mind and body, makes every year a marked improvement in the productiveness of his land, in the character and thrift of his stock, and in his knowledge of his business; who sees where he can make an improvement, and is judicious in procuring the means for making it.

Such a man as this will get more satisfaction and happiness out of his life as a farmer than he could get in any other avocation, and he will count far more in the general advance of civilization. The other will get no satisfaction, and only an animal sort of happiness, and when he dies the cause of the world's improvement will not have sustained a loss.

The best index to the difference between these two classes of men is to be found in the manner in which they pass their leisure winter hours.

The one will simply doze them away, coming out in the spring as nearly like what he was the spring before, as it is possible for him to do. The other will turn his spring furrow in pursuance of well-laid plans for the season's work, and with a mind eager for their execution.

Let the loose clapboards be not neglected, and give the stock a full meed of intelligent care, but above all let the farmer keep his own mind in the most perfect trim, and bestow a good share of cultivation on the only part of his possessions to which his title is indefeasible.—Am. Agriculturist.

SOMETHING WORTH KNOWING.—A friend says: one day while purchasing a lot of dried fruit, I discovered small pieces of sassafras bark mixed amongst it, and upon inquiry was informed that it was a preventive against the worm. It is said that dried fruit put away with a little bark, (say a large handful to the bushel,) will last for years unmolested by those troublesome little insects which so often destroy hundreds of bushels in a single season. The remedy is cheap and simple. Try it.

INSECTS injurious to vegitation, it is stated, can be destroyed by the application of a liquid composed of one part vinegar and nine parts water.—The mixture should be applied to vines and plants with a garden syringe or water-pot with a fine nozzle.

EARLY RISING.—Anti-early-risers will do well to note that one hour lost in morning naps will put back all the business of the day; that one hour gained by early rising will make fifteen days in a year, or three full years in a long lifetime.

A comical merchant had three customers, a father and two sons named Wheeler. In keeping their accounts to prevent confusion he styled the parent "Stern Wheeler," the elder son, "Side Wheeler," and the younger, a rather fast youth, "Propeller"

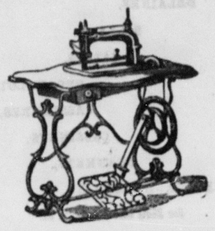
AMERICAN BUTTON-HOLE OVER-SEAMING AND SEWING MACHINE COMBINED.

EDAL AWARDED AT THE PARIS EXPOSITION, 1867.



In directing attention to the celebrated COMBINATION BUTTON HOLE AND SEWING MACHINE, we feel fully warranted in claiming for it unquestionable superiority over all others as a Family Machine.—The Simplicity, Ease and Certainty with which it operates, as well as the uniform excellence of its work, certainly place it far in advance of any other similar invention of the age.

It is also the cheapest, intrinsically, as well as the best, since it is really two machines combined in one, (by a simple and beautiful mechanical arrangement never before accomplished by human ingenuity,) making either the Lock Stitch or Button Hole Stitch, as occasion may require. It is, at the same time, simple in construction, comparatively noiseless, easily understood, and, in a word, it combines with those advantages exclusively its own the most desirable qualities of all others, for it not only does every variety of sewing in a SUPERIOR MANNER, but in addition OVERSEAMS splendidly and makes beautiful BUTTON and EYELET HOLES in all fabrics. This is far beyond the capacity of any other machine.

The SPLENDID MECHANISM of this Machine, and the superior skill workmanship and materials employed in its construction, are a guarantee of accuracy, strength and durability, and enable the company and its agents to Warrant Every Machine they sell to give entire satisfaction.

INSTRUCTIONS GIVEN ON THE MACHINE GRATUITOUSLY.

Lessons may be taken if desired with a view to test the Machine, or to become better acquainted with it before deciding to purchase. Samples of work will be furnished upon application at
